SCHOOL FUNCTIONS SMOOTHLY

Many people are involved in keeping a school functioning smoothly. Students attend elementary school for seven years searching, finding, observing, experimenting, developing, growing; and behind them is the guidance offered by administration, faculty, and other school personnel. With all the activities involved at the grade school level, these students are aware that even though learning is inevitable, learning can be fun.

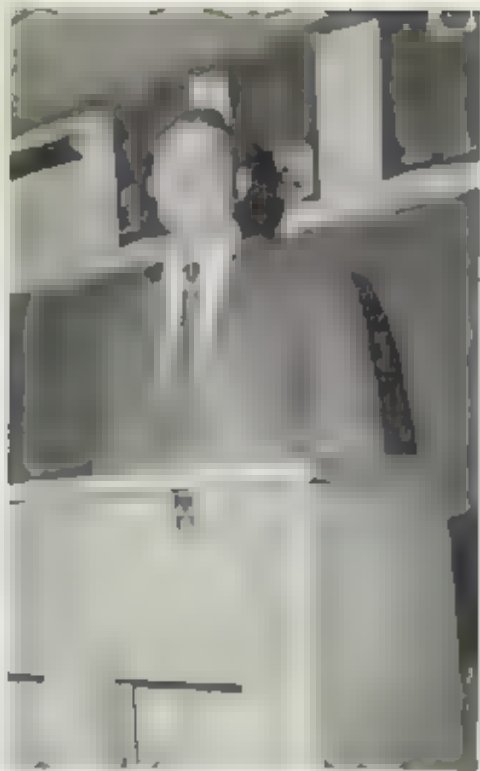

Keeping the grade school functioning properly is the goal of Mr. Paul E. Nelson Principal, and Mrs. Roberta Christensen, Secretary.

Sam Theis and Bob Blevins work to keep the school clean and neat.

Preparing nutritious meals is the job of Mrs. Hazel Patton, Mrs. Della Arnold, and Mrs. Dorothy Placek.

The second grade held an exceptional assembly on Feb. 21, at 2:30. The assembly consisted of four scenes depicting events held in February. The topics of each scene were as follows: Valentines day, George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, and Ground Hogs Day. The thing that made the assembly exceptional was the fact that the second grade students wrote their own scenes.

"Hortense Gets Ready for Halloween" was a puppet show presented by members of Mrs. Marshall's third grade Panorama Reading group. The cast of Mr. Owl, Mayor Pumpkin, Hortense the Witch, Velvet the Cat, and two narrators presented the show telling how Hortense has unknowingly let her license expire. Consequently, she has to come up with some good money-making ideas in order to buy a license for her broom.

One of the highlights of the year for the fourth graders was their assembly on December 6, "Happiness is Christmas." This production depicted various scenes of Christmas.

The remainder of the year seemed so much brighter after seeing the enthusiasm and enjoyment displayed by the fourth grade students and their teachers.

"Ad Astra Per Aspera" or "To the Stars through Difficulty," the Kansas motto, was the theme of the fifth grade assembly in January.

The Kansas Day potporri of fun and learning was highlighted with the pleasures of pioneer songs, poetry, tall tales, dances, and drama. The fanciful story, "Ad Astra per Aspera," depicted the historical legend woven into the Great Seal of Kansas.

High school principal, TERRY MARSHALL

Keeping on top of it all is the job of Mr. Marshall who, after two years as principal of SBHS, has indeed run a smooth school.

The office aides under the supervision of both Mr. Marshall and Mrs. Sibley collect and record the daily absentee slips, record grades, take telephone messages, and run various errands.

Mrs. Sibley, completing her eighth year as high school secretary, keeps everything intact from weekly calendars and schedules, grade cards, and permanent records to enrollment fees, lunch money, purchase orders, invoices, and activity funds.

A new innovation this year, the teachers aides, get one credit for assisting a faculty member with clerical duties.

Bus drivers, lunchroom personnel, custodians, and library assistants are all an integral part of "running a smooth school."

EXPRESSION:

An inward feeling--an outward look--a gesture.

"And so we leave, with high hopes and with deep humility and with very much gratefulness in our hearts..."

With this emotional farewell, President Richard M. Nixon resigned his post as this country's 37th president, and Gerald Ford became the 38th president of the United States on August 9, 1974. This was the first time that Americans had had a president who had not been elected by the people and also a vice-president not elected by popular vote. In his inaugural address President Ford stated, 'I am acutely aware that you have not elected me as your President by your ballots. So I ask you to confirm me as your President with your prayers.'

Later this year fighting resumed in Viet Nam with South Viet Nam surrendering on April 30. The U.S. was involved in rescuing thousands of refugees and bringing them to the United States and other countries to live.

Kiowa celebrated its centennial year which was highlighted by a large parade on August 31. The seniors entered a float depicting highlights of their senior year.

Surprise, wonderment, and confusion filled the air at 12:00 on October 9 when a wind storm knocked out the lights and a pep rally was held in the dark and faculty members improvised ways to continue holding classes.

The school underwent an extensive North Central Evaluation for accreditation purposes. The team arrived meeting expressions of anticipation and left two days later leaving behind expressions of relief. After visiting with faculty members and students, the evaluation team renewed our accreditation.

A typical Kansas snowstorm swept over the plains several times during the winter months, but it was never necessary to close school because of the storms. The year closed amid tears of joy and sadness as seniors marched to their graduation ceremonies to the strains of Pomp and Circumstance. And that's the way it was in the year 1974-75 at South Barber High.

STUCO IN ACTION

The Student Council had another active year. They were busy with their own activities, but they never were too busy to participate in other activities.

The Christmas party was an important event of the year concerning the STUCO. They put out a lot of hard work and planning to think of a way to change the annual party in order to make it different and more exciting than the last one.

Basketball homecoming was also planned and carried out successfully by this ambitious group. STUCO member Pam Blunk was elected basketball homecoming queen and opened the dance with her escort, president Kent Harbaugh, to the live music of Braxus.

Something else that was new was a dance in March co-sponsored with the Booster Club for the SBHS student body.

In addition to their many activities, STUCO members kept the pop machine filled for the students using the lounge during their study hall. This was a big job even though the price of pop went up to 20¢ per bottle.

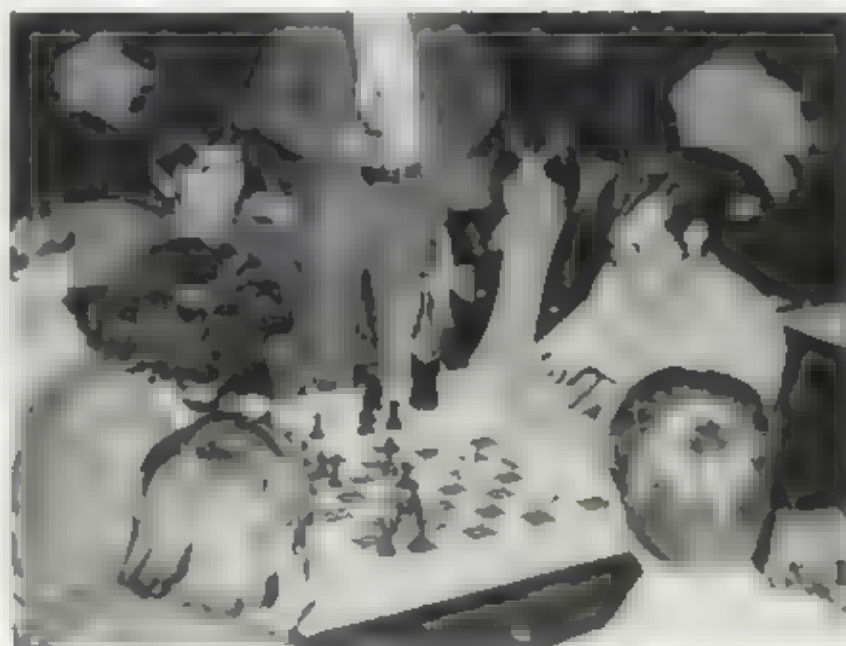

Student council members were truly STUCO IN ACTION.

AND DEBATE

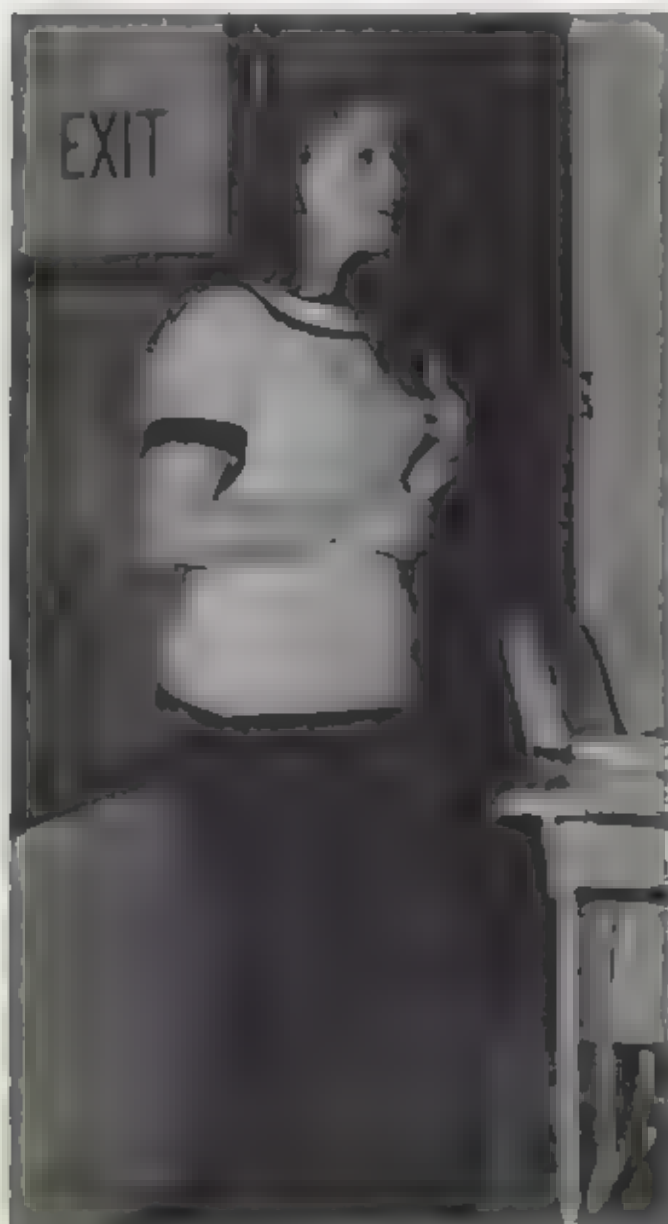

The '74-'75 school year was a triumphant one for the Speech and Debate Students. They took a lot of time and practice in preparing for the contests they entered. For practice they would, sometimes, do their acts or interpretations in front of a class.

The Students first went to league contest where they had good ratings and were eligible for State. Next they went to the Chapparral Invitational. They again rated for State. Next they attended district contest. At last they entered State Competition.

State Competition was at Winfield. There they rated eight one's and three two's. For the most, they've had a great year. We hope that in the future they will be just as great.

"OFF THE TRACKS"

On Tuesday, November 26, the selected juniors and seniors presented "Off The Tracks," a three act play about 13 people who were stranded because of a trainderailment in an out-of-the-way station that hadn't been used in years,

... AND WITH YOUR MUSIC ...

Chamber singers perform for SBHS.

Two special music groups created by auditions are the Chamber Singers and the Jazz Ensemble. Highlighting the year for these groups was the tour April 2, a special performance for the South Barber students and faculty at the beginning of the year, and performances for social groups.

With many hours of practice, these groups add many dimensions to the SBHS music department.

PRE-HOMECOMING ACTIVITIES BOOST SPIRIT

The students of South Barber caught the spirit as the week of Homecoming neared. The week started as the halls and the common's area were filled with signs. A bonfire and pep rally also prepared the football team for when they met the Burrton Chargers on October 18. Three candidates, Pam Swafford, Ronda Reed, and Lisa Redfield were chosen to compete for the 1974 Homecoming Queen.

Candidates were Pam Swafford, chosen by the football boys; Lisa Redfield, chosen by Pep Club; and Ronda Reed, chosen by STUCO. The evening was spent dancing to the music of "Chances R", while others enjoyed playing cards on the upper deck of the gymnasium or just sitting around and talking. The evening was enjoyed by everyone who attended.

The tennis program this year picked up momentum and saw a total of 18 students participate.

The girls had a building year with emphasis on fundamentals. The boys attended seven meets and brought home 10 medals and 5 trophies. In tournaments at Wellington, Fairfield, and Pratt the boys placed 2nd, 3rd, and 3rd.

With losing only three seniors, the teams are looking forward to another successful year.

Cram it down their throats was the cry of the volleyball girls. This year the girls really strived to win their games. Much effort was put out by these girls and their coach, Mrs. Homier.

If someone saw these girls walking down the hall, they would never guess that they were a volleyball team. But on the court, that was a different story. They would take their place on the court with looks of determination on their faces. They were confident and knew what they wanted to do. Thus, another great year of volleyball passed by for the determined girls of S.B.H.S.

In action the girls, through their expressions, show their determination to be a great team. And one thing for sure, these girls are full of determination and effort. The "A" team had a 2-4 record, and the "B" team had a 4-2 record. Volleyball was not just another sport to these girls; it was a challenge that they were determined to meet and will meet again in the years to come.

WIN A FEW . . . LOSE A FEW

Under the coaching of Mrs. Sandy Homier, the girls A-team basketball fought to a record of 4 wins and 8 losses while the B team finished the season with a mark of 3-3. Many nights of hard practices and training conditioned the fifteen girls for their games. The girls played many teams headed for state championship playoffs in their tough schedule. They still managed to come up with several upsets in the 1974-75 basketball season.

RUN 'EM RAGGED

The South Barber Chieftains ended the season with an 8-12 record.

Brad Ridgway, senior, led the league in scoring with 462 points in 20 games. Both Ridgway and Bill Cox, junior, received an appointment to the M.A.L. all-league team; Ridgway was named to the first team, and Cox received honorable mention.

South Barber hosted its first M.A.L. Tournament in which we were defeated by Pretty Prairie 64-67 and by Belle Plaine 83-86 in three overtimes.

Despite a losing season and an abrupt change in coaching staff mid season, the varsity team showed great determination and spirit.

They well deserve the name of Chieftains.

GENERAL SPORTS

WE'VE GOT THE PEP SO . . .

With the election of cheerleaders and officers the Pep Club was ready to begin another year of boosting Chieftain spirit. Some things the Pep Club achieved during the 1974-75 year was to sponsor football Homecoming activities, decorate the halls and lockers each week with signs, sponsor pep rallies, have a Powderpuff Football Game, sell pins, ribbons, and stickers, and boost the teams by attending the games. The Pep Club was sponsored by Miss Fritze, Mrs. Holt, and Mrs. Homier.

The Y-teens had another busy year, doing the usual things; heart fund drive, magazine sales, working in the concession stand, and throwing a kindergarten Christmas party.

And a few different things; namely, a slumber party that was thrown in honor of the freshmen Y-teens. Actually it was their initiation. The freshmen girls were pulled out of bed and brought to the school in their pajamas. Many didn't even know what was happening.

(It can be dangerous to disturb some people when they are sleeping!) All in all, the girls had a good year and are looking forward to the future.

The Hi-Y group also did other things. A couple of these were working in the concession stand and going to Wichita.

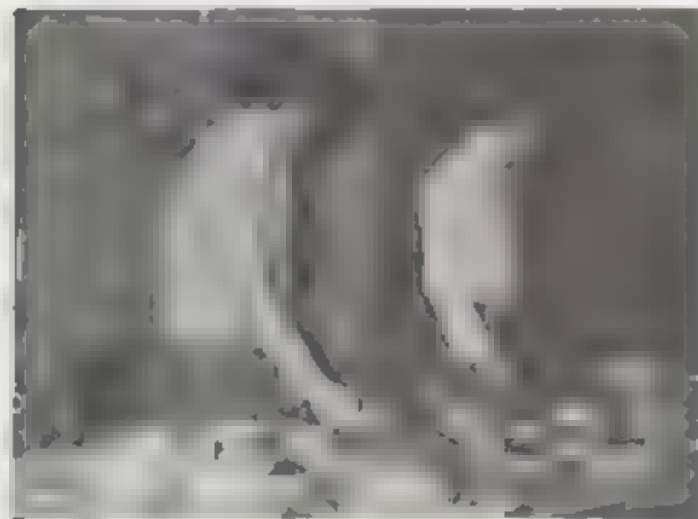

Like everyone else, they, too, have had a busy year. We hope next year turns out to be just as great for them as this year has been.

MOVIN ON WITH FFA

FFA has been moving on with another very busy year. After all the excitement of the FFA Sweetheart Contest, the slave auctions, the Foundation Awards, meeting new people, the judgings, working in the concession stand, and (trying something new) the mountain oyster fry, the FFA is ready to take a breather--until next year.

Among all of the excitement we had a change of staff. The former FFA teacher, James Milligan, left us and David Miller took his place.

In case anyone would like to know, the money raised from the slave auction this year amounted to $936. Wow.

The members are looking forward to another very busy year next year.

The events that the candidates participated in were horseback riding, barrel roping, and tying a ribbon on a goat's tail.

After all the votes were in and the ballots had been counted, it was announced that Syd Sterling was chosen FFA Sweetheart of the year.

The theme "Out in the Country" greeted the seniors and other guests as they entered S.B. country on May 3 for the annual Jr.-Sr. Prom planned by the Junior Class. The country motif was carried out with hay bales, a windmill, a tank with live catfish, an outhouse, tumbleweeds, a horse stable, a scarecrow, a chicken yard, and punch served from an old crock.

The banquet was served on tables decorated with red and white checkered table cloths centered with a candle in a Barrel of Beer bottle.

John Parrish, the guest speaker, challenged the students to make the best of themselves.

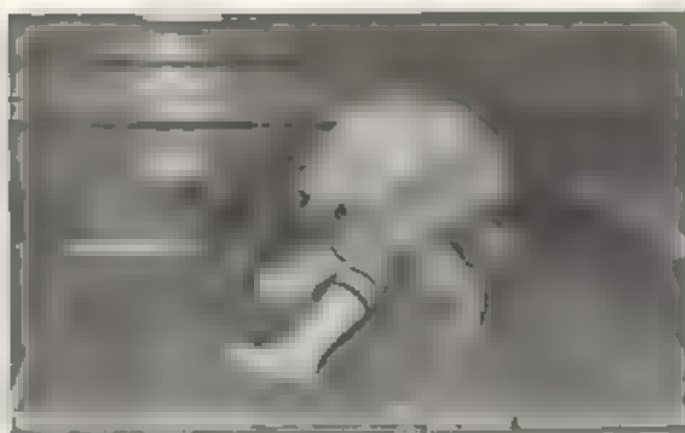

Following the banquet the guests danced to the music of Wizard. Mothers of the Juniors had charge of the punch table. Where better to go than "Out in the Country!!"

Guest Speaker John Parrish addresses the students and faculty.

Mrs. Jake Newton prepared the punch for the prom.

Expressing themselves was a very big part of the students' and faculties' lives at SBHS whether they were having fun showing off their talents or being in a serious mood.

As a person walked down the halls, he could see expressions of happiness when someone found out he got to get out of school at noon even if it was to go to the dentist, surprise when someone found a rubber snake in his locker or found out he had just won an election, and also expressions of misery when someone forgot about a test for which he hadn't studied.

People expressed themselves not only by facial expressions but by the clothes they wore. Blue jeans and a comfortable shirt were the most popular attire, but during basketball and football seasons the pep club uniforms were worn as many as four days a week.

Expressions are a part of people talking to each other. The seniors were often heard expressing themselves by yelling "S-S-S-E-N, I-I-I-O-R, S-E-N-I-O-R, SENIOR!!!" every chance they got. This was always followed by the juniors yelling "J-J-J-U-N, I-I-I-O-R, J-U-N-I-O-R, JUNIOR!!" followed by a hesitant cry of "Sophomore" and then from the distance "freshman."

Expressing themselves was done through extra-curricular activities, also, whether it was participating in sports, vocalizing, playing a horn, cheering on our basketball team, debating a resolution, or being a member of a club.

Although students had to study hard this year, they always managed to have fun while they were in the commons area drinking a bottle of pop. In fact, they had fun every chance they got.

There are many different ways to express oneself, and all of them were present at South Barber High.

CLASS OF 78 . . .

The freshmen of 1975 finally got a taste of real life after getting South Barber High. After finding all the right rooms and meeting all the teachers, the freshmen got used to being called underclassmen, being stared at, getting picked on, learning drive, running from one class to another, sometimes being tardy--going to games, yelling very loud at pep rallies, showing they are determined not to be down. They are ready for the next steps, Sophomore, Junior, and finally Senior 78!!

CLASS OF '77

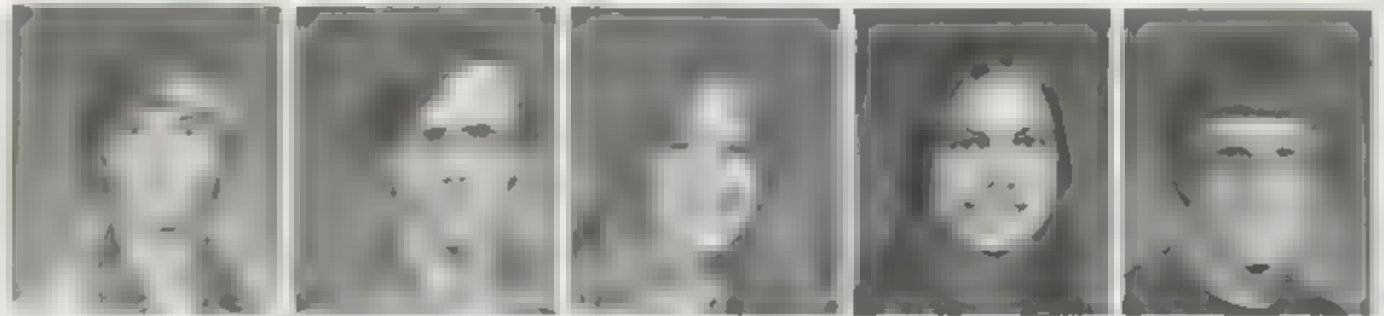

President, Mitch Hunter; Vice-President, Debbie Michel; Secretary, Jill Wiedman; STUCO Rep., Marcy Williams; Treasurer, Robbie Reed; and Sergeant-at-Arms, J. C. Patton.

With one half of their high school years behind them, the sophomore class of 1975 await the next two. The highlight of the year for the sophomores was the selection of class rings. For a money-making project, the class sold light bulbs. The class looks forward to their last two years as they remember the 1974-75 year.

From L. To R. President Karen Stevens, Treasurer Scott Mathews, Vice-president Tony Archuleta, Student Representative Roberta Graves, Secretary Lynette Hargett.

This was a busy year for the class of '76. They were busy writing term papers, critical reviews, and, of course, preparing for the prom. There seemed to be no end to the work they did. But, that's all part of being a junior.

The juniors are a diversified lot of students. They participated in inter-mural sports, music, debate, speech arts, the play, and other extra curricular activities. All of these things became a part of the daily lives of the juniors. Their spirits are always high and full of hope for the future. They are waiting for their turn to be recognized.

Being a part of this class was important to every junior in S.B.H.S. They know that their time to go out in the world is coming and they are going to be ready for it. There is just one more step to go.

CLASS OF '75 . . .

The seniors began their year with a wave "hello" and ended it with a tear and a handshake. But between these two expressions of acknowledgement the seniors of 1975 had their year. The election of officers saw Pam Blunk, President; Brad Watkins, Vice-President; Emily Sutton, Secretary; Ronda Reed, Treasurer; and Joni Bergren, Student Council Representative.

As the year progressed, the seniors selected the blue daisy for their flower, blue and silver for their color, and "I'll Always Remember" for their song.

As unsure freshmen they looked forward to the day they would become the mighty seniors. And this year--their year--realizes their dreams and hopes of four years ago.

Through much happiness, sadness, learning, playing, friendships, and misunderstandings, the class looked forward to fulfilling their motto, "We dare to do what we dare to dream."

President Pam Blunk discusses the commencement program with Mr. Fry and Mr. Quast.

OWNER - Don Angell

In appreciation for all the hard work put forth by Mr. Jack Wilson and the art classes, Darwin Gates, and Mr. Jerry Holt on the completion of our 1975 yearbook we, the staff, would like to thank each and every person for his cooperation. We would also like to express our deepest appreciation to all the merchants whose advertisements and names appear on these pages. It is the thoughtfulness, and sincerity of these public-minded citizens that has, along with the hard work of the annual staff, made the publication of the 1975 CHIEFTAIN possible.

Gratefully,
